This parenting course presents a philosophy that is based on principles of God's word. It is firm but nurturing, and includes three important concepts:

- Does your child really feel your love?
- How to get your child not only to behave, but want to behave.
- How to shape the will without breaking the spirit.

The sessions are approved by KDHE for up to 6 in-service hours.

Child care will not be offered at the church during the class.

Family Foundations Course Sessions include...

- Adult and child inborn temperaments and personality traits, and the resulting interactions.
- How to fill your child's emotional tank, and love them unconditionally.
- Guidelines for creating a parenting philosophy for discipline and guidance, balancing nurture and control.

This class is offered to parents in the church, preschool and community through Colonial Preschool by Carlene Martin, presenter of Family

Foundations (formerly Blueprints for Parents) for 34 years.
